TEAM Santa Rosa is making a presentation on the "Value and Importance of Public Relations" at the October Economic Development Growth and Education (EDGE) Meeting.

The PFMA (Panhandle Fresh) model is now receiving international attention as the Mexican Association of Small Business Development Centers at their 10th Annual National Professional Development Conference in Merida, Yucatan Mexico has requested TEAM's Executive Director Cindy Anderson to present the PFMA program at the end of October.

TEAM is seeking input from the community regarding the possibility of creating a Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) program for Santa Rosa County. If there is demand, a farmer or small group of farmers would offer a certain number of "shares" to the public. These shares are much like a "membership" or "subscription" and share holders would receive a box of seasonal produce weekly. Email Cindy Anderson to support this potential initiative.
